1/10/2022 11:51 AM	Hi, this is Chris Dickson. I am the chairman of the board of the pebble Creek homeowners association in far south Asheville off of overlook road. And I'm calling to leave a, an open public comment. I just want to say thanks to the city of Asheville for the work. It did improving the storm water situation here on an extension of Dingo Creek that flows through the middle of our community. As you might know, there's a storm basin behind the Walgreens on Hendersonville road and with all the development in south Asheville of water, that would flood out of there during thunderstorms was slowly destroying the gabions that had been supporting the Creek between two of our buildings. We really enjoyed working with Russ Davis and the whole city of Asheville team. They did a great job listening to the community, taking our input and managing the project to replace those gabions with a stronger structure to take us into the future. The contractors who came through did a great job. In fact, you know, it was less disruptive to the community than we expected when they were there. They did a great job moving things forward, despite supply chain issues and what have you. And in fact, they finished the project just a few days before tropical storm or depression or whatever it was Fred parked itself over Asheville and tested that new structure, quite determinately, and it stood the test. So we were very pleased to see that. And we, we really appreciate the city of Asheville, his efforts on this, and otherwise just a wish you good luck. And for the year 2022, moving forward. Thanks. Bye.
